As Utah's sixth oldest city, Lehi is rich in pioneer and Old West history.

Originally settled by Mormon pioneers, Lehi has been known as Sulphur Springs, Snow's Springs, Dry Creek, and Evansville. It was incorporated as Lehi City in 1852. The Overland Stagecoach Route, the Pony Express Trail, and the Transcontinental Telegraph all passed through or near Lehi during the peak of their use.

Lehi operates under the six-member council form of government. The Mayor and five City Council members are each elected at large to serve four-year staggered terms as the legislative council. The City Council is responsible for policy-making decisions while the city administration is responsible for the daily operation of city departments and services.

Lehi offers abundant opportunities to live and play. As the gateway to Utah County, Lehi is surrounded by Utah Lake and the Oquirrh and Wasatch Mountain ranges. Residents and visitors have easy access to hiking, camping, fishing, mountain biking, and a variety of other outdoor activities.

The City is quickly becoming a premier commercial center along the Wasatch Front with tremendous visibility and access. Large companies like Adobe, Microsoft, Xactware, and IM Flash have recently relocated or expanded to Lehi. In fact, Forbes Magazine recently recognized the Lehi area as the best mid-sized area for jobs (2013).

Indeed, Lehi City is pioneering Utah's future!

Data collected from the 2010 U.S. Census and the 2012 Lehi Citizen Satisfaction Survey.

WATER DEPARTMENT

CROSS-CONNECTIONS

A cross-connection occurs when there is a connection between the culinary system and the PI system. According to Lehi City ordinance, swing pipes or a combination of valves are not allowed. Unapproved and improper piping changes or connections to the water distribution system can adversely affect the availability of water. A cross-connection may also let polluted water and chemicals into the water supply system which can adversely affect the water quality and your health.

USING FERTILIZER

To maintain an attractive lawn, fertilize every 4-6 weeks from late April until fall.

To prevent ground water contamination and safety hazards:

- Store fertilizer in a locked, dry cabinet.
- Keep fertilizer and pesticides on separate shelves.
- Don't store fertilizers with combustibles, such as gasoline and kerosene. These create an extreme explosion hazard.
- Avoid ground water contamination by not over-watering plants.

To apply safely:

- Only apply the amount of fertilizer that crops, grass, plants, or trees can use during the growth period.
- Fill spreaders on the driveway to easily clean up spills and prevent water contamination.
- Properly calibrate your spreader and sprayer.
- Add liquid fertilizer to the spray tank while on the lawn to prevent spills from running into the storm drain system.
- Do not spray or apply fertilizer near wells, streams, or lakes.

Lehi Water Systems

Culinary Water: A safe drinking-water source used inside the home.

Pressurized-Irrigation (PI): A source used outside the home for watering lawns and gardens.

FROZEN PIPES

Interior pipes that run along exterior walls, crawl spaces, and attics are most likely to freeze. To avoid frozen pipes:

1. Insulate outside walls near water pipes.
2. Wrap pipes with UL-approved heat tape.
3. Shut off and drain your stop and waste valve to the sprinkler system.
4. Protect faucets without automatic drain systems with UL-approved heat tape or adequate insulation.
5. Install a frost-free hydrant for outside water use for pets or livestock.
6. Shut off and disconnect hoses and drain water from outside faucets.
7. Know the location of your shutoff valve in case of emergency.
8. Turn off your water service if there is no heat in the building. Contact us if you are unable to operate the valve inside your home.

If you are experiencing freezing:

- Open cabinet doors so warmer air can circulate around the pipes.
- Trickle cold water from the faucet during freezing temperatures.
- Keep interior heat above 60 degrees at all times, especially if you plan to be away from the home for long periods of time.
- Never use a propane torch to thaw a pipe. A hair dryer or small space heater works well. Keeping the faucet open, start to thaw the pipe at the faucet and work back toward the coldest section.
- Contact the Water Department if there is a leak and you cannot shut off the valve to your home.
- Be aware of the potential for electric shock with standing water.
- Contact a certified plumber for repairs.

AVOID THERMAL EXPANSION

Most homes are supplied hot water from an electric- or gas-heated tank. Water expands as its temperature rises (thermal expansion). Without a functioning temperature and pressure relief valve, your water heater can explode with the force of dynamite. Protect your home by regularly performing maintenance on your water heater.

STREETS

WINTER PARKING REGULATIONS

According to City Ordinance 10.04.020(e), parking on the street during a storm and for 24 hours after a storm is prohibited. Parking on the street during these conditions may result in a parking ticket. During a storm removal emergency, as declared by the City Administrator, cars impeding snow removal may be impounded.

SNOW REMOVAL

Lehi City Public Works strives to ensure the safest possible conditions during and after a snowstorm. From November 1 to April 30, snow removal crews are prepared to work 24 hours a day. Snow removal crews will make every possible effort to keep major streets clear of snow and ice and keep roads open and passable.

DRIVEWAY OPENINGS

Despite their best efforts, snow removal crews cannot avoid plowing snow into driveways when clearing roads and curbs. One of the last steps in removing snow is to push edges back and widen the road for future snow storage. Placement of snow at the end of your driveway may be an unavoidable consequence. The Streets Department will make every effort to minimize snow plowed into driveways, but it is the property owners responsibility to clear driveway openings.

THINGS TO REMEMBER DURING A STORM

- Residents are responsible to clear sidewalks adjacent to their property.
- Shoveling, plowing, or blowing snow into the street when clearing driveways and sidewalks is prohibited by City ordinance.
- To ensure regular mail delivery, clear snow around your mailbox.
- Mailboxes should be installed appropriately and securely to withstand snow removal efforts.
- Homeowners are responsible for keeping fire hydrants on their property clear and accessible.
- City rights-of-way for snow storage extends nine feet back from the curb. Landscaping and personal property within the rights-of-way is installed at the property owners risk.
- Independent snowplow service contractors should be properly licensed and comply with Lehi City municipal codes.
- Place trash receptacles at the end of the curb or driveway. Remove the containers promptly after pickup.
- Observe all winter parking restrictions and requirements.

Regular hours:
7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

RESPONSE TIME AND PLOWING PRIORITY

Response time to your street depends on the timing, severity, and duration of a storm.

The amount of traffic the road receives is also considered. Roads with the most traffic receive top priority. During major storms it is unlikely that residential roads will be plowed immediately. Once priority streets are cleared, snow removal crews will begin plowing residential areas. Subdivisions, cul-de-sac, and end streets will only be plowed after four inches or more have accumulated.

QUESTIONS

If your mailbox has been damaged or if you have concerns about snow removal, please contact us.

2. Fire
3. Medical 1 (obstructed airways, bleeding, triage, etc.)

5. Search and Rescue
6. Psychology & Teams (mental readiness, organization)
7. Terrorism and CERT

WHO CAN BECOME CERTIFIED

Residents 18 and older are encouraged to become CERT volunteers. Tuition is only $35 for Lehi residents and $40 for non-residents. Tuition includes training materials, a helmet, a vest, gloves, and a pair of safety glasses.

REGISTRATION

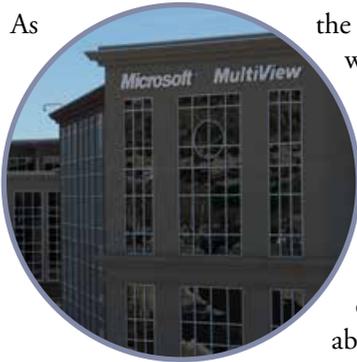

CERT basic training courses are held in February and September. Residents who are interested may register online at www.lehicer.org or by calling (801) 810-5344.
