Tiffany Heath

ACSM Certified Exercise Physiologist | PN2 (Precision Nutrition, Level 2 Certified)

If you want to feel confident, and exercise correctly without guessing what to do, Tiffany provides knowledgeable, supportive personal training designed for real life.

With over 20 years of experience in exercise science-based settings, including corporate fitness, physical therapy, and sports medicine, Tiffany helps clients build strength safely, move better, and make the most of their limited time. Her sessions focus on proper technique, smart progression, and helping clients feel capable rather than overwhelmed.

Tiffany works especially well with busy women and adults who are returning to exercise after time off, managing aches or injuries, or wanting accountability, guidance, and reassurance that they're exercising correctly. Clients appreciate her calm, encouraging approach and the confidence that comes from knowing their training is both effective and appropriate for their body.
