All the female dogs in Lehi think John Haws is the greatest guy in town. At last week's council meeting new dog license fees were being voted on. The new resolution called for a $5.00 hike on female dog and $2.50 on male dogs.

John didn't think that was quite fair. He said that male dogs were just as much of a problem around Lehi as female dogs.

"I really don't see why owners of male dogs should have to pay less because their dogs cause just as many problem as the female dogs," John told the other council members.

They agreed with him and the new fees for all dogs, male and female are $10 apiece.

John Daly, city recorder said that the increase was needed to keep up with the increase of fees and supplies needed by the animal control officer.
