LEHI CITY TO HONOR VETERANS IN MANY WAYS

American Legion, Arts Council, and Lehi City Work Together to Honor Veterans

Lehi, Utah | May 21, 2015 –On Memorial Day, Monday May 25, at 9:00 a.m., Lehi will hold a ceremony at the City Cemetery to honor the city's veterans.

The event is coordinated in conjunction with Lehi City, the American Legion Post 19, and the Lehi Arts council. It includes musical performances and an address by Lehi City Councilmember Mike Southwick.

Quin Allred, the American Legion Post 19 commander, values this as an important day and event, "The reason we have always done this is to remember and honor the veterans from Lehi who have served before and who are still serving. Memorial Day is to remember them; it's not just for barbeques, fishing trips, and camping tips, it's to remember the veterans."

Mayor Bert Wilson encourages all to attend, "Memorial Day is a great time to remember our family and friends that have passed. It's a time to remember the lessons learned and to make resolutions to live better. Veterans and many others have given their all so that we can have the blessings of life and a free country to live in. Let's take the time to say thanks and be grateful for all they have done."

Lehi City further honors veterans with Lehi's Honor Wall located at the cemetery. The wall contains all of the names of the Lehi veterans who are buried in the cemetery. It serves as a powerful reminder for the large number of those who have served and gone on before.

In addition, members of the Lehi Police Department who have served in the military will be participating in the "Standing Quietly" event on the 500 East Bridge over 1-15 on Memorial Day from 7:00-10:00 a.m. To learn more about this event visit www.standingquietly.com.
