FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ANCESTRY MOVING HEADQUARTERS TO LEHI

Family History Company Newest Addition to City's Business Community

Lehi, Utah | January 28, 2015 – Ancestry, the world's largest online family history resource, has announced that it is moving its headquarters to Lehi, Utah. The company's new headquarters will be located at The Corporate Center at Traverse Mountain.

According to Ancestry's press release, "The new $35 million facility, located just a few miles off Interstate 15, will sit on 10.5 acres with a sleek modern design that incorporates floor to ceiling windows to take in more light and phenomenal views of Mount Timpanogos and the surrounding valley." With more than 1,400 total employees and more than 1,000 employees based in Utah, Ancestry is another great addition to Lehi's ever-growing business community. Mayor Bert Wilson said he is excited to welcome Ancestry to the community. "I am thrilled by this announcement. It goes to prove that there is nothing better than a room with a view," said Wilson.

Ancestry's new campus is expected to be completed in mid-2016. In conjunction with Ancestry, Lehi will provide more information regarding the project as it nears completion.
