How to Play BUNCO

Each game consists of six rounds, progressing in order from one to six. Players are divided into numbered tables of four players each. At each table players are teamed up into two teams (the one who is across from you). The game starts when the Head Table rings the bell.

When play has started, players take turns rolling three dice, trying to score points. The goal is to get 21 points before everyone else on your table in each round. Points are usually awarded as such:

- 21 points if all three dice match the current round number... BUNCO! (Yell it loud!!)
- 5 points are awarded if all three dice match each other, but do not match the current round number
- Finally, 1 point may be awarded for each die matching the current round number.

If points are scored, the player gets to roll again, continuing to add to their score. If no points are awarded, the player's turn ends and the dice are passed to the next player at the table.

Each round ends when a player scores 21 points.

After each round has ended, players stand up and the winning team from each table (you and the person sitting across from you) moves to the next table, while the other team stays put. After everyone has moved tables, play starts with the next round until all rounds have been completed and the game is finished.

Travel Bag

The travel bag doesn't necessarily have to be a bag (traditionally it is a bean bag of sorts), it may be anything that is fun, safe, and easy to throw, like a stuffed animal, small pillow etc. The travel bag is called such because it "travels" the entire game, being thrown from one player to another. The way to win the travel bag (and therefore the travel prize) is to have the travel bag in your possession at the end of the game. Any time three 2's are rolled, the player who rolled them will yell out, "Travel!" and the travel bag is thrown to them. This continues throughout the game until it is over and the one holding the travel bag gets the prize!

Ending the game

After all the rounds of BUNCO are finished, players will add up their scores from all the rounds. Prizes will be awarded for the top 3 highest scores, and there will be a consolation prize for the biggest loser with the lowest score. There will also be a travel bag prize awarded to the player who has it in their possession.
