Spring into Service

WRITTEN BY COUNCILOR CHRIS CONDIE

Here we are in the middle of Spring. Enjoying the warmer weather, the color of nature, and simply being outdoors.

This June, residents will have the option to run for elected office. This year is different, and we may never see an election cycle like this again. In addition to the mayor and two city council seats, there are multiple school board seats for our new district. What an opportunity to step up and serve Lehi City and the new school district. Thank you to those who are currently serving! Elected, appointed, volunteer or simply as a resident, thank you!

When I first ran for office, I was told that some of my friends would no longer be my friends. I do not believe that has happened at this stage in my political journey, which I am grateful for, but my journey has been tumultuous at times. My journey has also given me experiences that I will always appreciate and will cherish forever.

I have built relationships, had the opportunity to assist many throughout the city, residents and businesses, and to represent Lehi in official capacities. Holding office is a unique opportunity to grow, become more than you are now, learn how the city functions, and build everlasting relationships.

I have met and interacted with individuals, and families, who I consider heroic, selfless, courageous, generous, and kind.

I encourage you to take a moment to ponder running for office. And if not, if you know someone you think would serve well maybe give them a gentle, encouraging nudge. It is not for everyone, and it can be daunting, but city staff and fellow elected officials are there to assist, encourage, and support you.

What I appreciate most about municipal and local school board elections is that they are non-partisan. Individuals who chose to run are not bound by a political platform. You run and campaign as you. Share your thoughts, be willing to listen, do not hesitate to agree, and work towards solutions. My hope is that local elections will always remain non-partisan, and that political parties do not intervene. Serving in a local elected position is for the people, all the people, not just those associated with a particular political party.

We live in a great city, the greatest city in Utah! I know there are issues we are still working to resolve, but overall, look at the progress, look at the opportunities around us, and know that we live in one of the most vibrant cities in the state, and in America.

- Chris Condie

Beautify Lehi

May is Beautify Lehi Month! Join residents, city staff, and elected officials as we work together to show pride in our community.

Sign up for the May 17 community project at www.lehi-ut.gov/recreation/events-celebrations/beautify/, or you can also get a group together and do your own beautification project.

You can also get involved in Beautify Lehi Month by doing a clean-up project with your neighborhood, family, church, or other group.

May is also National Bike Month—perfect for enjoying our trails. Ride in the Golden Spoke event on May 10, connecting trails from Ogden to Provo. Details at goldenspokenet.org.
